Who I Am

I am a self-taught Graphic Designer, passionate about creating Visual Identity and Logos that strongly represent their company. I always like to acquire knowledge, gathering it by messing around with programs, reading articles, and participating in events such as UX Book Club and Startup Weekend.

I have been working with design since 2010, doing graphics projects in a full-time position, in freelance jobs, and for colleagues and non-profit organizations. I also have knowledge and experience with Video Editing, Interactive Flash Animations and some Programming Logic.

I am very proficient with Windows OS (from Vista to 8), Android OS and general computer skills, being a computer user far above the normal average.
