

PHILIP GJEDSTED
WRITER/CREATIVE DIRECTOR

Philip has well over thirty years experience writing and producing International advertising and communications.

He is now an independant consultant with a folio that embraces traditional advertising ,Corporate films, digital communications and social media.

In Australia, Philip was Creative Director of two of Australia's most successful Advertising agencies "of their time":
MOJO (Melbourne) and MATTINGLY Y&R and was recognized for both his brand and retail advertising.

He became an independent consultant with major advertising agencies in both Melbourne and Sydney, Australia, in 1993. Philip left Australia in 2001 and consulted for agencies in Singapore, Hong Kong and Vietnam. He has also written and produced corporate films for some of India's and Vietnam's largest companies.

As a Creative Director, Philip is involved in defining brand strategy, core values and personality, how a brand looks, sounds and interacts in all forms of communications from hard copy and broadcast to all digital forms. As a writer he builds "friendships and relationships for brands" by developing their own unique 'language style' built on their propositions and core values. He also enjoys refreshing and extending existing brands.

Working with Philip is similiar to having a full service agency on your team, but without expensive overheads and unwieldy systems of communication as he works directly with you to ensure the best possible results and is directly accountable for the success of your project.
