CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT

Old Dominion University

Fall 2014–Present

- ODU Graphic Design Online Tumblr portfolio. In collaboration with Assistant Professor, Ivanete Blanco, I maintain and contributed to an online portfolio of student design work produced at ODU as a resource for current and prospective students.

< <http://odu-graphicdesign.tumblr.com/> >

Spring 2014–Present

- Online Teaching Visual Archive: I maintain and update an extensive Pinterest page which I use in conjunction with lecture materials and as a focused reference resource for the particular projects underway in my courses. < <http://www.pinterest.com/revrantdesign/> >

Spring 2014–Present

- Online Graphic Design Resource List: I maintain and update an extensive listing of design firms, organizations and publications as well as competitions and specialized sites and blogs on blackboard for students in all my courses.

Fall 2013–Present

- A Graphic Design Creative Processes Handbook: In collaboration with Assistant Professor,

Ivanete Blanco, authored A Graphic Design Creative Processes Handbook. The handbook (43 pages) describes the desired outcomes of the different stages of work created in class, the criteria which may be evaluated in grading these outcomes, and thoroughly breaks down the creative process from the research stage all the way to the final production of a design product. An appendix at the end of the document includes samples for each stage of the process as well as a recommended supply list.

2016–2017

- Coauthored revised proposal for the conversion of the current concentration in Graphic Design to a stand-alone B.F.A. in Graphic Design (in approval).
- Designed, administered, and evaluated the test of skills delivered as a part of the 2017 Graphic Design continuance portfolio process.

TEACHING ACTIVITIES

Old Dominion University

Routine activities and responsibilities

The following student advisory tasks and responsibilities are a routine and recurring part of my responsibilities as a teacher. Less routine activities or accomplishments are listed by year in the following section.

2012–Present

- Provided career counseling and assisted in placement of graduates.
- Advised students preparing for job and internship interviews.
- Advised and assisted students in making contact with alumni and professionals locally, nationally, and internationally.
- Provided counseling for students applying to the graphic design program.
- Supervised students preparing competition entries (specific competitions listed by year).
- Instructed students in the use of production studio equipment.
- Assisted students with large scale printing in the production studio.

2016–2017

- Assisted students preparing for: Addys, Richmond Ad Club, National Student Show, AIGA Blue Ridge Annual Design [flux], Adobe Design Achievement Awards, CA design and typography annuals.

2015–2016

- Assisted students preparing for: Addys, Richmond Ad Club, National Student Show, AIGA Blue Ridge Annual Design [flux], Adobe Design Achievement Awards, CA design and typography annuals.

2014–2015

- Assisted students preparing for: Addys, Richmond Ad Club, National Student Show, AIGA Blue Ridge Annual Design [flux], Adobe Design Achievement Awards, CA design annual.
- Type specimen: Continued development of the specimen book.

2013–2014

- Type specimen: Compiled and designed a 43 page specimen book which provides a basic visual reference as well as a basic guide to the interpretation of typographic style. This document is not meant in its current state to be a work of original scholarship, but rather a helpful compilation of common knowledge for students in my courses in a form unavailable in current textbooks.

Other activities

2016

- With Ivante Blanco, arranged and hosted campus visit by Rolando Murillo, San Antonio-based senior designer with HEB. In the classroom, Rolando participated in critiques, and reviewed portfolio work. He also delivered a well attended evening lecture and Q&A session.

Texas State University–San Marcos (selected)

Routine activities and responsibilities, 1992–2012

- Provided career counseling and assisted in placement of graduates.
- Advised advanced students preparing for job interviews.
- Advised lower-division students preparing for internship interviews.
- Advised and assisted students in making contact with alumni locally, nationally, and internationally.
- Provided counseling for incoming ComDes majors.
- Advised ComDes majors enrolling in all sessions.
From 1994 until roughly 2000, ComDes faculty officially advised all majors, generally 50–80 majors per semester.
- Supervised or assisted in portfolio development for ComDes majors graduating in all sessions—outside the current portfolio course system.
- Supervised students preparing competition entries.
The ComDes program at TXST has always been committed to the benefits of exposing the students to creative competition, and my typical year brings preparation for: the Art Director's Club of Houston, the Creative Summit, the Austin, San Antonio, Dallas, and Houston Addys, the One Show student competition, New York Type Directors' Club, Graphis New Talent Annual, and CMYK student competitions.
- Assisted students applying for San Antonio, Austin Addy, Alumni and departmental scholarships.
- Advised students preparing materials for graduate school applications.
- Instructed students in the use of production studio equipment.
- Assisted students with large scale printing in the production studio.
- Assisted students in execution and construction of portfolios, portfolio books, and portfolio materials.
- Assisted students applying for internal and external scholarships.
- Updated library of digital portfolios for all ComDes graduates.
- Consistently attended design and advertising conferences and awards ceremonies with students in all major markets in Texas.
- Organized student tours of local vendors and museums such as: the rare books collection of the Ransom Humanities Research Center at the University of Texas, The Museum Of Printing History, Houston, Texas, BookLab II, San Marcos, Texas.
- Organized guest lecturers in my courses from the San Antonio, Austin, and Houston markets.

- Co-organizer, The 502 Pick 'n Pull, a student work review and competition.
Over 30 alumni reviewed the work of 82 students from all levels of the program. Each student received multiple one-on-one reviews of their work. The alumni then selected around 30 pieces for the actual Pick 'n Pull, in which they debated and discussed the work in front of the students to select five final pieces for cash awards. I co-organized this event with TXST colleagues as well as the officers of 502, a ComDes alumni association.

2003

- Organized critiques for all majors by guest lecturers from the Austin and San Antonio markets.
2003 guest lecturers included:
Craig Crutchfield, Senior Designer, Chaos, Austin, TX
Brad Savage, Designer, Toolbox Design, San Antonio, TX
Gerald Codina, Designer, Austin, TX
Liz Silva, Senior Art Director, Latitude, Dallas, TX.

2001

- Developed program-wide essential skill sets for imaging and page layout applications for ArtC 1302, Introduction to Computer Imaging.
- Converted all lecture materials for ArtC 2303 to digital presentation format.
- Began digital archive of ComDes student work samples and professional work samples for each course in the curriculum.

1997

- Co-organized and attended the Communication Arts Society of San Antonio student portfolio review with students.

UNCOMMISSIONED DESIGN AND RESEARCH PROJECTS

Old Dominion University

2017-Present

- The FYT Project. Completed design and production of a series of four prints created as responses to the growing resistance movement triggered by the 2016 U.S. elections. Designer and printer, through R-N-R Showprint.
- ODU Letterpress collection cataloging project. As an extension of my interest in and use of the letterpress collection in my work, I began researching and identifying the wood type fonts in the collection. To date 169 fonts have been specifically identified and added to the inventory system. These fonts (as well as around 75 lead fonts) have also been sampled and entered into a new drawer labeling system. I have printed and applied the system to around 140 drawers in 7 type cabinets.

2016–Present

- RNR Dry-bys Letterpress Project. An on-going project. In 2017, completed design and production of three prints in this series of spontaneous typographic experiments created between printing passes of more complex prints. Inspired by phrases, words, and cross-cultural idiomatic language, these prints also provide an opportunity to explore ODU's the letterpress type collection, new printing techniques, and collaborative opportunities with graphic designers and letterpress artists. Designer and printer, through R-N-R Showprint in collaboration with Ivanete Blanco, Norfolk designers and printers Stacey Crenshaw (Prince, Inc) and Rob Crenshaw (Hanbury Architecture) and San Antonio, TX designer Rolando Murillo (Murillo Design/HEB).

2015–Present

- The Smithville Papers Letterpress Project. Completed the design and production of the first eleven prints of the series which will eventually consist of eighty-four prints, each corresponding to one of the eighty-four selections contained on Harry Smith's storied Anthology of American Folk Music, which will eventually be compiled in a book. Designer and printer, through R-N-R Showprint.

Texas State University–San Marcos

As stated above, I was intensely involved in service to the program and the School of Art and Design (a department at the time of my arrival) since my first year at TXST. Those listed immediately below represent significant and/or long-term activities or accomplishments. Please see the end of this section for a list of the tasks which were a routine part of my program service.

1999–2000 | 2005–2007

- ComDes area coordinator
I coordinated course scheduling, curriculum development, technology acquisition and management, and adjunct recruitment and evaluation, orientation, and training.

1997–1998 | 2001–2005 | 2007–2010

- Assistant ComDes area coordinator
I assisted in course scheduling, curriculum development, technology acquisition and management, and adjunct recruitment, orientation, and training.

1993–1996

- Prior to the implementation of the Area Coordinator system, I shared, with Professor William Meek, the responsibility for all aspects of program administration, planning, hiring, scheduling, curriculum development, purchasing, technology acquisition and management and new initiatives.

1998-1999

- Member, Department of Art and Design governance committee

I was a part of the small team which rewrote the department's governance structure, creating the current area coordinator system.

2007-2009

- ComDes co-counsel to Director of the School of Art and Design

I worked with the director to identify curricular and enrollment issues and propose new policies and procedures.

1995-1996

- With Assistant Professor William Meek, negotiated an Apple Max Lease Agreement. Managed ComDes Imaging Lab. The first arrangement of it's kind on the TXST campus, the agreement provided essential computing hardware and a system for regular upgrade.

1996-2003

- ComDes representative, Department of Art & Design ATP Facility Committee.

I represented ComDes throughout the process of the construction of, and relocation to, the J.C. Mitte facility. I led a rotating group of ComDes faculty in the research and development, design, planning, and purchasing for the new facility, and coordinated the relocation of all offices and classrooms.

1999-2012

- Coordinator, ComDes Senior Exit Review

All TXST ComDes majors are required to display their final portfolios at this biannual event. The event consists of both a closed review for faculty and professionals and an open review for family, friends, and guests. I supervised all aspects of this event from the initial planning, to promotion, to coordination with agencies and studies for an average of 65 students per semester. Of the 28 events held since 1999, I have participated in 25 and coordinated 22.

1992-1997

- Managed ComDes Imaging Lab including: coordinating lab student workers, provided primary systems support, provided primary research for all software and hardware purchased for the Imaging Lab, coordinated all hardware repair and purchasing, managed all software updates. During this period the program's computing resources increased from 18 to 40+ workstations.

1993-1998 | 2007-2012

- Member then Chair, School of Art and Design scholarship committee

2007-2012

- Coordinator, ComDes outcomes assessment

I authored the outcomes document, created the assessment instrument, and coordinated the assessment process during Exit Review.

2000-2001

- Chair, Department of Art & Design Hiring committee

Organized and facilitated all aspects of the ComDes search for two full-time tenure-track positions. Resulted in the hiring of one tenure track faculty, and one yearly full-time faculty.

1999-2000

- Chair, Department of Art & Design Hiring committee

Organized and facilitated all aspects of the ComDes search for one full-time tenure-track positions. Resulted in the hiring of one tenure track faculty.

1995 | 1996 | 1997 | 1998 | 2007

- Chair of ComDes Hiring committees

Resulted in the hiring on two tenure-track faculty and two yearly contract faculty, one of which has since transitioned to tenure-track. The 2007 search resulted in the first tenure-track hire for the newly-created M.F.A. program in ComDes.

2010-2012

- Coordinated the creation of the third floor letterpress area. I coordinated the acquisition and restoration of the proofing press, the renovation of the space, and the first donation of type.

2010–2012

- Coordinated construction of the new third floor production studio.

2003–2010

- Faculty representative to 502, a ComDes Alumni Organization
502 was an independent organization devoted to the advancement of the program and its graduates. I facilitated the founding of the group and assisted their efforts to raise scholarship funds, provide resources to current students, and to build community amongst our alumni. During its existence the group distributed over $15,000 in materials and scholarships and provided a vital path to professional practice for hundreds of students.

1994–2002

- Founder and advisor to the Association of Student Communication Designers

1998–2001

- Supervisor to the Departmental Microcomputer Lab Coordinator

1997

- Chair, Department of Art & Design hiring committee for part-time teaching pool
- Chair, Department of Art & Design hiring committee for Microcomputer Lab Coordinator

2007–2012

- Member, School of Art and Design promotion and tenure document committee
During my time on this committee, we undertook the first extensive rewrite of the tenure and promotion document since the early 1980s in an effort to better coordinate with the larger university effort to consolidate T&P documents and better advise tenure-track faculty.

2008–2010

- Member, School of Art and Design mentoring committee

2007–2010

- Served as a faculty mentor

2005–2010

- Coordinated the ComDes “Third Floor” gallery space.

1999

- Chair, Department of Art & Design hiring committee for part-time teaching pool
- Co-author, ComDes self-study report

1995–2003

- Member, Department of Art & Design facilities committee

2001–2003

- Member, Department of Art & Design curriculum committee

- Member, Department of Art & Design visual resources center committee

1997–2007

- Advisor to the Texas State student chapter of the AIGA

2001

- Coordinated all aspects the acquisition and renovation of design studio 504

1998

- Coordinated all aspects the acquisition and renovation of design studio 202

1998

- Authored the ComDes creative standards and policies handbook

1997

- Member, Department of Art and Design foundations committee

1996

- Coordinated the renovation of design room 505.

- Prepared ComDes technology strategy and purchasing proposal.

1994

- Member, Department of Art & Design hiring committee

1993

- Established the Student Interactive Multimedia Publications Group. SIMPG is a small experimental extracurricular student group formed to explore the interactive multimedia communications.
- Designer with Assistant Professor William Meek of the 1993 Works on Paper Catalog
- Designer/illustrator with Assistant Professor William Meek of the 1993 faculty exhibition poster

1992

- Established the Imaging Studio | Multimedia Workspace. I coordinated renovation of the space and secured an internal technology grant from the university for the purchase of workstations.

(routine activities)

The following activities represent my every-day service to the program outside the committee structure.

- Coordinated upkeep and upgrade of ComDes teaching spaces and production lab.
- Collected and posted freelance opportunities for ComDes majors.
- Supervised ComDes student assistants and lab monitors.
- Conducted tours for prospective students and their parents.
- Conducted extra-curricular workshops in basic digital imaging and basic Adobe InDesign skills for all majors.
- Assisted students in the use of the letterpress area.
